LEE'S
Famous Antibilious Pills.

These much esteemed Pills have been for many years prepared in Baltimore by the present proprietor, as many of our most respectable citizens can testify; and a number of them have readily and gladly given certificates of their great value as a family Physic.

Lee's Antibilious Pills are, and have been for many years sold and used as a family medicine in all parts of the United States, and have always given general satisfaction; and their superior benefits are so highly esteemed by a wise and discerning public, that they require no newspaper eulogy or puffs to recommend them.

The proprietor most respectfully informs his friends and the public in general that he continues carefully to prepare (from the original receipts) Lee's Antibilious Pills, together with the whole of Lee's Family Medicines, at his family Medicine Dispensary, No. 68, Hanover street, Baltimore —viz.

Lee's Antibilious Pills,

For the prevention and cure of Malignant, Bilious. and other Fevers, admirably adapted to carry off superfluous bile, etc.

Lee's Worm Destroying LOZENGES.

A certain and powerful remedy for destroying all kinds of worms.

Lee's Elixir,

A certain and effectual remedy for obstinate colds, coughs, weak stomachs, etc.

LEE'S GREAT RESTORATIVE AND Nervous Cordial,

A most valuable medicine for great and general debility, nervous disorders, loss of appetit etc. etc.

Lee's Essence and Extract of MUSTARD.

An infallible remedy for sprains, bruises, rheumatism, numbness, chilblains, etc.

Lee's Sovereign Ointment for the ITCH.

Warranted to cure by only one application

Lee's Ague and Fever
DROPS,

Warranted to cure if taken according to the directions.

LEE'S PERSIAN LOTION,

For removing eruptions from the face, and curing tetters, etc.

Lee's Indian Vegetable Specific,

A certain and effectual cure for the venereal and gonorrheas.

LEE'S TOOTH ACHE DROPS,

Which give immediate relief.

LEE'S TOOTH POWDER.

Which cleanses and beautifies the teeth.

LEE'S EYE WATER.

Cure for the sore eyes.

LEE'S ANODYNE ELIXIR,

For the cure of the head-ache.

The proprietor would be glad to insert the many certificates and letters recommending the above truly valuable medicines, but this in a newspaper, is impracticable—He therefore with increased confidence respectfully proffers them to a liberal and discerning public,

DRUGGISTS & MERCHANTS are informed that Lee's Antibilious Pills, together with a general assortment of Lee's highly approved family Medicines, can be purchased at the proprietor's Dispensary on the most favorable terms. They are very respectfully invited to call and convince themselves of the fact.

They may be had on commission (where no Agency now exists) by giving approved reference. They are sold by his appointment, wholesale and retail, by Samuel Pettigrew.

Pittsburgh.

And in almost all the principal cities and towns in the Union.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Wilmington, (Del.) March 21.

About half past nine o'clock, last Thursday morning, the people of Wilmington were alarmed by a severe shock, which in some respects resembled an Earthquake, & which was so violent as to induce some to fly precipitately from their houses. Immediately after a fleecy column of smoke, opposed to the sun (which under other circumstances would have been a beautiful spectacle) indicated the fatal cause of the concussion—it being in the direction of Dupont's extensive Powder works. In about 15 minutes after, another and sharper explosion took place, which, it seems, was the blowing up of the magazine, then open for the purpose of loading waggons for the transportation of powder. Curiosity & a desire to be useful, attracted crowds of people to the awful scene, (at a distance of 4 or 5 miles.)—In a short time, Rumour, with her hundred tongues, warned us of the expected and almost inevitable blast of 30 tons of powder, already said to be surrounded by fire, which, it was apprehended, would shatter the houses of Wilmington. The panic spread and increased: the inhabitants rushed from their houses into the streets & some hardly thought themselves safe after crossing the bridge. The consternation was such as might be expected from the sudden menace of bombardment by an enemy's fleet. All business was suspended, and a mixture of personal apprehension and anxiety for the probable sufferers at the mills, occasioned a general agitation among the citizens. It was not till late in the afternoon that the contradictory rumours were resolved into any thing like a consistent account of this dreadful calamity. And even now much remains to be learned. The plainest matters of fact (as is usual in moments of alarm) were differently conceived by various persons who observed them at the same time. The general result appears to be, that three explosions, in instantaneous succession, occasioned the first shock; which it is said, destroyed upwards of 20 persons. The second, before mentioned, destroyed several and increased the devastation. When the unfounded apprehension of the expected great explosion had subsided, a multitude of citizens witnessed a scene of havoc, probably unequalled by any occasion of the kind in this country. From 25 to 30 persons were killed; some of them scattered in fragments, in various directions, to a great distance. Several were badly wounded, some of whom it is supposed will recover. The buildings for a considerable distance, were very much shattered. The house of Mr. Dupont (who was absent) though at some distance, was considerably injured; but fortunately, the family escaped without any material injury,

An attempt to describe this awful scene, had we even the fullest information, would be vain. The effect of the explosion of some tons of powder, hurling the stones, buildings and flaming timbers in every direction, sweeping men, animals, houses and trees before them, can better be conceived than told. We shall hereafter give such simple facts as may be useful or interesting; endeavoring to avoid the Editorial sin of spinning out horrible descriptions, and racking the nerves of others for the sake of selfish profit, or the amusement of the idle.

The loss of property, as we have been informed, is by no means so great as might have been expected.

We may add that the injury is confined to the Eleutherean or upper Powder works; the Hagley works, belonging to the same proprietor, which were recently erected, and are of superior importance, have entirely escaped.—Watchman.

[From the Northern Whig.]

Miraculous Escape. It is but seldom that we read of a more narrow escape from appparently impending death, than will appear in the following instance. Jacob Spaunberg, jun. miller to captain Mark Blatner, of the town of Livingston, in this county, during the late flood, while endeavoring to ward off the enormous quantities of ice which were coming down Roeliff Janson's Kill, from the gate of the flume of said Blatner's Grist Mill, the flume gave way, and Mr. Spaunberg, together with the flume were thrown into the rushing current of the creek, and were precipitated down a very craggy fall, of the height of nearly one hundred feet, to the utter astonishment of every one who beheld the dreadful scene. He went down midst cakes of ice, pieces of timber, and the foam of the waters, so that the spectators immediately lost sight of him, and supposed him to be drowned or dashed in pieces. But, strange as it may appear, although at first he went to the bottom, he arose, and was carried down the rapid stream to the distance of half a mile, when happening to be driven near the shore, he caught hold of a thornbush, by which he drew himself out of the water. Being so much bruised as to be unable to walk, he literally crept up the hill to a neighbouring house, about a quarter of a mile from the creek, where he received every kind and humane attention. From thence he was carried home, to the astonishment of his distressed family, who expected never to see even his lifeless body. It is said that Mr. Spaunberg has so far recovered from the bodily injury he had received, as to be able to attend to his business.

Milledgeville, March 10.

The detachment of troops from Tennessee, under Col. Hayne of the regular army, about 1200 strong, reached the Chatahoochie on Wednesday last, and are by this time near Fort Scott, if they have not arrived there. M'Intosh, the friendly Chief, has gone with his warriors to the aid of General Jackson.

The heart aches at the recital of continued massacres of the Indians. Four persons, two men, a woman and her child, were attacked about ten days past by the savages, on the public road, between the Creek Agency and Fort Mitchell. One of the men was shot dead and scalped, the other, though wounded made his escape; the woman was shot in three places and tomahawked but not scalped; the child had a cut on the head, apparently with a knife. They were both found alive and conveyed to Fort Mitchell, where the woman, under the benevolent care of Major Hughes, United States Factor, is likely to recover—the child has died. The woman says there were 15 Indians, but in her situation it is not likely she could ascertain the number. It cannot be long before these wretches will be made to suffer ten-fold the evils they have inflicted—a terrible vengeance awaits and will shortly overtake them.—[Journal.

Extract of a letter from Doctor John Sibley to Doctor John H. Robinson, of Natchez, dated Natchitoches, Jan. 30.

"I have nothing new to communicate from this quarter, except that some letters have been received from St. Antonio, mentioning the defeat of the patriot general Mina and himself taken; this information having also come through another channel, I fear it is true.

"Some traders lately arrived here from the Hietan Indians, and say, that about three months ago, a party of these Indians, with their great chief, Chewawa, fell in with some Spaniards not far from St. Antonio; they fought, and Chewawa was killed: and as these traders left the nation (less than a month ago) 4000 warriors were assembled, to go against St. Antonio, and said they would revenge the death of their chief, or all perish; that they would not leave a soul alive, or a house standing at St. Antonio, or on this side of the River Grand; that the country which was once a prairie should be again a prairie."

Alexandria, March 25.

EQUINOCTIAL GALE.

On Saturday the town and harbour of Alexandria were visited by one of the most tremendous gales of wind ever experienced in this place. It came on early in the day from the north-east, accompanied with moderate rain. Towards the evening it increased to almost a hurricane—the Potomac was in a perfect foam.—The shipping and craft at the wharves were tossed about in great violence—several craft were sunk—a house blew down, on the fish wharf, with eight persons in it, & a woman was very much hurt—considerable injury was done to the wharves, and some damage done to the roofs of houses. We are informed, a schooner, loaded with grain, was driven on shore and bilged, near fort Washington. We fear that the shipping on the coast must have suffered severely.

ALABAMA TERRITORY.

Steam Boat.—A steam boat was launched at St. Stephens in the beginning of February, to be called the Alabama of St. Stephens—burthen 230 tons.

A correspondent states, that Oliver Pollock, an old Seventy-sixer, has arrived here with a view to prosecute his claim against government for 30,000 dollars, advanced for the service of the United States whilst commercial agent at New-Orleans, during the revolutionary war. Whatever can be established as justly due by the United States for claims of this description, will no doubt be allowed, under the just disposition recently shewn by congress on this subject.

Nat. Intel.

PERPETUAL NONSENSE.

We had flattered ourselves with the hope that after the signal discomfiture of Mr. Redheffer and the Aurora, on the subject of perpetual motion, we should be able to pass the remainder of our lives without being further pestered with such absurdity. It was therefore with no little surprise that we saw the following paragraph in the New-York Gazette of Friday last.

Notwithstanding the eagerness and confidence of Messrs. Lang and Turner in making the annunciation, we must still remain incredulous unless they can convince us that one of those Gentlemen can be at the same moment both heavier and lighter or both more wise and more foolish than himself.

Union.

From the New York Gazette.

Perpetual motion.—We are eager to be the first to announce to the world, the discovery of perpetual motion by a respectable merchant of this city. We have witnessed an explanation of the discovery, and we feel confident of its reality.

In a few days, an exhibition of this all important self-moving power will take place at the Tontine Coffee House.

Tax on Travellers—By a law of New-York, every passenger that travels in the North river steam boats, has to pay a tax of one dollar. The receipts arising from this source of revenue for the year 1817, is stated at $16,509.

The Students of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in the city of New York, have granted to the Professors of the College a publick letter, or diploma, "expressive of the proud and grateful sense entertained of the ability and assiduity which have marked the course of lectures just ended," which has been published in the newspapers. This is a slight departure from the ancient custom, by which the faculty and instructors of Colleges confer honours of this description on their pupils.

But Dr. Mitchell has made great improvements in New-York.—Bos. D. Adv.

The receipts by the Pennsylvania Hospital, for the exhibition of Mr. West's picture, during the months of November, December and January last, amounted to the sum of 4029 dollars, 60 cents, from 14,985 visitors, and the sale of 28 life tickets at 10 dollars each.

The New Orleans Gazette contains an extract of a letter from an officer of the United States army, dated at Mobile on the 2d of February, stating that "our troops on the Flint River are closely besieged by the Indians, and that the mouth of the Appalachicola River is rigidly blockaded by two armed schooners with 500 men.." The letter adds—"Our little force is nearly starved, and if the troops from Georgia do not quickly move to their relief, I fear the Indians will give an ugly account of them.

The celebrated comick actor Brunet, at Paris, who has a numerous family, never suffers his children to visit the theatre where he performs, lest by seeing and laughing at their father in the performance of ridiculous characters, they should insensibly lose the filial respect due from children to parents.---London paper.

The Fortunate Youth resides in the Rue Pigalle, at Paris under an assumed name. His father lately received a letter from him, in which he requests that he will take immediate possession of the Haughton estate, and see that the interests of the tenantry are properly attended to—that the wants of the poor particularly shall be well supplied There is very little doubt that his mind is not right, and that he suffers from mental delusion. His uncle an opulent man, is the principal sufferer by his conduct. From respect to his nephew, he proposed to make a gayer appearance than usual. In consequence he ordered a new carriage and liveries, now no longer wanted, but which have been recently sent to him by his tradesman from town.
